GED (General Educational Development) Testing

The Board desires that every student have the opportunity to earn a high school diploma through successful completion of class work and examination. However, when a student is unable to do so, the Board encourages completion of an alternative program that allows him/her to obtain an equivalent certificate.

The Office may conduct General Educational Development (GED) testing for persons confined to county correctional agencies and others who have not finished high school.

Legal References:
- Education Code 48412 Certificate of proficiency
- Education Code 51420-51427 General Educational Development test
- Code of Regulations, Title 5, 11520-11523 Proficiency examination and certificate

Adopted SMCBE 10/06/65; Revised 06/17/70, 11/19/08