Expository Reading & Writing Course (ERWC)

This year, Region IV is proud to offer six virtual opportunities for high school educators to become certified in the ERWC Curriculum. Our two Introductory Course series are geared towards high school teachers who have never been certified in ERWC. Our four Update Course series are aimed towards high school teachers who have previously been certified in ERWC and need to be certified in the latest version (3.0) of the curriculum.

More Information:
- Trainings are now offered as "weeks," wherein the first day of the week will include a synchronous (live video) learning session, and the rest of the week will be devoted to asynchronous, self-paced online learning and production.
  - Alameda County Office of Education- and Cal Maritime-hosted ERWC trainings will hold their synchronous sessions from 4:00-6:00 p.m., on the first day of the “week.”
  - San Mateo County Office of Education-hosted ERWC trainings will hold their synchronous sessions from 3:30-5:30 p.m., on the first day of the “week.”
- Participants may register for any regional training, regardless of the hosting agency.
- We recommend that school sites/districts register for the same training in order to experience the learning as a cohort.
